

New operating spheres with process mining

Discover the unknown in your operations. Pinpoint key processes, optimize them and you will profit.

Digitization as a Basis

Process digitization makes it possible to obtain gigantic volumes of data. It is up to you to crystallize the optimization potentials hidden in it. Not an easy task, given the constantly growing and alternating diversity of processes.

Open your Black Box

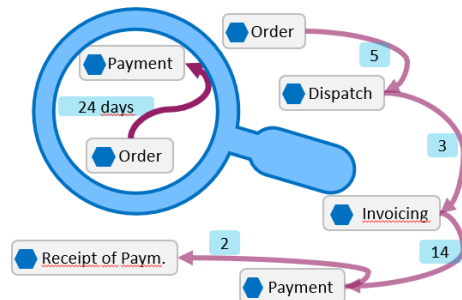

There is no doubt that your company has undiscovered areas where potential for improvement is still hidden, be it throughput times, process costs or other factors.

The art lies in recognizing essential processes quickly and optimizing them in a targeted and continuous manner. Visualizations are essential in finding solutions.

So that you do not grope in the dark

At PKF, we combine business know-how with IT expertise. Therefore, we are well equipped to support you in process mining:

- Planning and implementation of projects
- Visualization of knowledge
- Deriving recommendations for actions
- Support of optimization implementations
